Part VII. Project Ideas

1. Draw a chart which displays the scriptural names, characteristics, and results of regeneration. Use as many textual references as you can find.
2. Construct a large bulletin board which clearly displays the six different regenerational teachings. Research and include several scriptural references which contradict the first five, but support personal, experiential regeneration.
3. Develop a chart which displays how baptismal and decisional regeneration contradict the doctrines of Scripture contained in the Five Points of Calvinism. Include and write out ten texts that support each of the five points.
4. Design a poster to clearly portray the relationship between internal calling, regeneration, and conversion. Define each part and include scriptural references.
5. Place item 2, or any of the previous four ideas (or another of your own), on overhead transparencies for giving an oral presentation to your or another class, school assembly, open house evening, or other group.
